Solekai Expands Federal Government Market Support Engages DOD Specialists Defense Connections LLC

30 March 2009 – SAN DIEGO, CA -- Solekai Systems Corporation (Solekai) announced today that they have engaged the services of Defense Connections LLC of San Diego to support their business development and marketing efforts to the Federal Government. The Federal Government, including the Department of Defense, serves millions of civilian and military personnel and offers a tremendous opportunity for Solekai to increase its footprint providing digital video software services and solutions.

Solekai President and Founder Martin Caniff said, "We have been seeing a growing interest in specialized digital video and enterprise software applications by the Federal Government, especially DOD and Homeland Security. We have engaged Defense Connections to extend our reach and serve our efforts to bring custom video solutions to this market."

Tom Hernandez, President, Defense Connections, says that "We are pleased to have the opportunity to partner with Solekai and look forward to providing them with the industry-specific marketing expertise, access, and business development services needed to ensure their success working for the Government."
